Hazelwood Farm is a newly established farm located in Oak Creek, Wisconsin, just south of Milwaukee near the shores of Lake Michigan. The farm operates on a small scale (fewer than five acres), and uses sustainable growing methods in the cultivation of heirloom herbs, vegetables, and berries. Hazelwood Farm's owners believe that growing a wide variety of unique crops helps connect the community to a world of vibrant food that can be grown right here in Wisconsin. "Every seed has a story, and we love to share them!" The farm also shares growing space with a clinical herbalist and specialty grower (Baby Mama Botanicals) and hosts hives from a Milwaukee beekeeper.
